Simply a great PERFORMANCE.

The compact electric forklift trucks of the BA series are the perfect entry-level model for conventional transport and stacking tasks. Developed with the expertise of Jungheinrich's engineers, they convince with their performance, reliability and safety.

Strong performance at the best price

The intuitive and ergonomic operation, excellent visibility and practical manoeuvrability, thanks to the twin-motor front drive, enable a good performance in everyday use.

Efficient energy recovery

During the braking process, up to 30% of the energy is recovered – this increases the useful life after each charging cycle.

Extremely compact

With its high degree of manoeuvrability and the smallest aisle width in its class, the BA series electric forklift truck is ideal for confined spaces and block storage.

Optimum visibility

An optimised mast provides excellent visibility of the forks, goods and any obstacles and facilitates general all-round visibility.

Support and service

You can also play it safe after your purchase: Choose an individual service package from our extensive portfolio.
