

ETV 2i series

YOUR TRUCK. YOUR FIT.

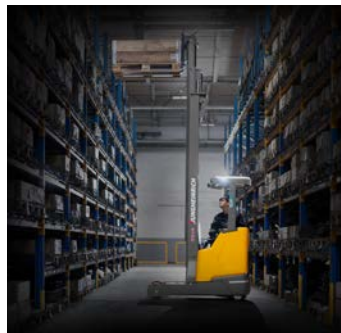

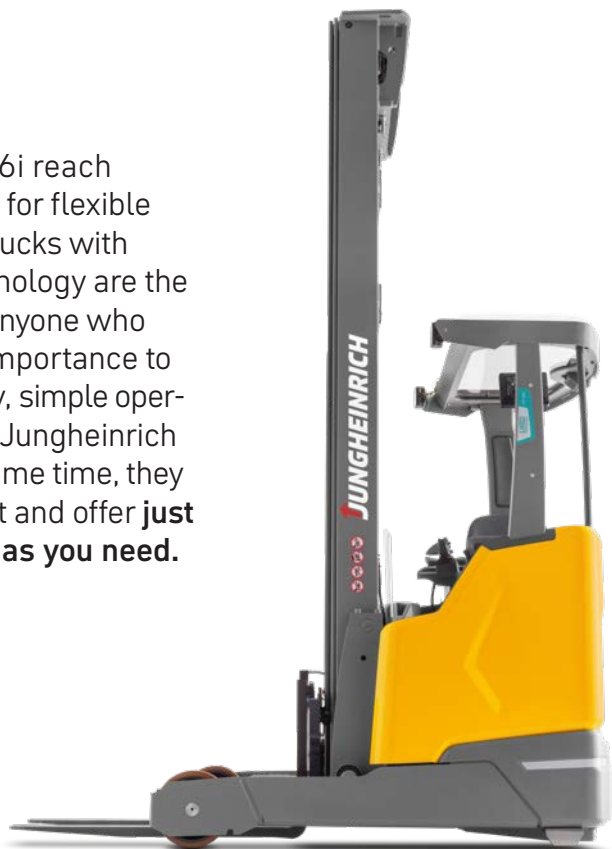

Your reach truck from Jungheinrich.
Just as much power as you need.

 JUNGHEINRICH

Whatever loads you want to move: We have the right truck.

Our ETV 214i/216i reach trucks are made for flexible use. The reach trucks with lithium-ion technology are the ideal trucks for anyone who attaches great importance to maximum safety, simple operation and proven Jungheinrich quality. At the same time, they are cost-efficient and offer just as much power as you need.

Optimised performance

Handling a wide variety of loads, great heights or narrow aisles is easy for the forklift trucks in the ETV 2i series. They allow you to store and retrieve loads quickly and prepare pallets for order picking in the shortest possible time.

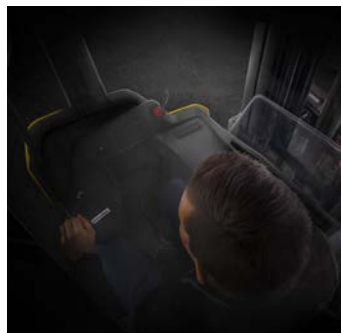

- The reach trucks are your ideal helpers for light- to medium-duty applications.
- Use the ETV series 2i models for loads of up to 1,400 kg or 1,600 kg.
- Lift pallets and crates to a height of up to 10,700 mm.

Latest lithium-ion technology

The reach trucks are equipped with state-of-the-art lithium-ion batteries as standard. This makes them a powerful, sustainable truck solution for your warehouse.

- Choose between two battery options: 460 Ah or 230 Ah, the latter also comes with a smaller battery compartment. This makes the reach trucks extremely compact and ideal for narrow warehouses.
- Long work interruptions are a thing of the past – thanks to extremely short loading times.
- Lithium-ion forklifts save around 20 per cent energy compared to trucks with lead-acid batteries.

More comfort and better view

The overall compact battery design creates more space in the driver's compartment and ensures an even more ergonomic and safer workplace.

- Drivers can now board the reach truck even more comfortably.
- You have significantly more freedom of movement in the truck.
- Added to this are intuitive operation, improved all-round view and optional safety features and assistance systems.
