

SAFEwalk
More safety in one go.

JUNGHEINRICH

SAFEwalk: What does it mean?

SAFEwalk is a walkthrough of your warehouse with a specially trained Jungheinrich safety expert:

- Preferably together with your safety officer.
- With a standard checklist for examining and analysing all safety-relevant factors.
- For a duration of two to three hours, depending on warehouse size.
- While your operations continue without any downtime.

Three facts in favour of SAFEwalk:

- Halted operations due to accidents amount to billions in damages every year in the intralogistics industry worldwide.
- Processes within the warehouse are becoming faster and more complex, leading to a heightened accident risk.
- The growing number of statutory safety requirements poses more legal and administrative challenges for companies.

The goal: Increasing safety, reducing costs.

Our SAFEwalk walkthrough shows you in detail, whether and – if so – where your warehouse has any safety deficits. You will receive specific recommendations with which you can:

- Increase the safety of your employees.
The effect: become a more attractive employer
- Reduce the risk of accidents with forklift trucks.
The effect: operations without downtime
- Minimise the risk of damages to your customers' goods.
The effect: satisfied customers
- Protect your investment with preventive measures.
The effect: long-term cost certainty

Your advantage: Highest safety tailored to your needs.

Your warehouse is unique – and so is your safety situation.

Which is why we walk with you through your warehouse in person and take a close look at your processes. Do your employees have the right qualifications, are the vehicles properly equipped for the warehouse situation, are your paths and warehouse spaces optimally laid out?

All the areas are ticked off with the use of the SAFWalk checklist. The result:

- You receive practical tips and recommendations for each item as to how the safety of your employees, machines and warehouse can be increased.
- You can use this “guideline” to put all the necessary steps for more safety into action.
- Of course, we remain at your side for ongoing support – from drivers’ training to warehouse planning.

Why Jungheinrich? Because we think about safety in its entirety.

You can't have your eyes everywhere – but we can.

As the dynamics and complexity of warehouse processes grow, so does the potential for dangers. It is no longer simply enough to analyse and implement safety measures for single problem areas.

This is why Jungheinrich has designed its products, solutions and advisory services to contribute to safety in a holistic way from day one. The aim is to help you significantly reduce accident numbers and put the spotlight on the topic of safety for your employees and warehouse operations.

What happens after SAFWalk?

Should you decide after the SAFWalk walkthrough that you would like to optimise your warehouse to be safer, we are at your side: with our years of experience and innovative solutions, from the planning to the execution stages.
